

01-BCL

*HV1: Okay so we're interested in knowing the kinds of things you and your third grader do in your everyday routine, so tell me about a typical day for Child C from morning to bed time as well as you can remember.

*PAR: Well, typical daily routines, especially during school days, we're up about 7:20 AM, get ready, we're out by 8, at school 8:30, out of school come home, do homework, and then usually after the homework he's mainly outside playing, and I'm cooking dinner. So our weekend is really our time to spend together or do activities together.

*HV1: Okay, so we're interested in learning more about your child's books and reading interests. Child C is in there showing (home visitor) some books, where did you get most of his books from? So would it be from the school library, public library, did you buy them, did someone else give them to him, or did the school give them to him? And we're - like most of them.

*PAR: Most of the collection that they have I've actually bought as far as like when they were little. Like they've got a lot of Dr. Seuss books that I've ordered in, or Disney books, things like that.

*HV1: Okay, and what are some things that you do to help your child become a good reader?

*PAR: Um, I don't have the patience with him, I've tried to come up with things, I've tried to give books that might interest him and it could take us thirty minutes just to go through two pages, he is, he's very _____ when it comes to _____.

*HV1: So, trying to buy books that he likes.

*PAR: Yeah, I've tried to, just to interest him but -

*HV1: Right, so what if anything do you do when your child has a hard time with the book?

*PAR: I normally end up reading it to him.

*HV1: Okay, and what are some questions that you ask your child when you talk about books that he has read?

*PAR: _____ did you like he book that your read? No. What was in it? I don't know.

*HV1: Pretty straightforward.

*PAR: Yeah.

*HV1: And what if anything do you do to motivate your child to read?

*PAR: I'll try to take video games from him, you know, I've tried to pretty much take things that he likes to do away in order for him to read. I can't help that he ____.

*HV1: And how often do you buy Child C books?

*PAR: Usually the school, the school book fair is when I'll buy, I'll take him and I'll buy them at least two books.
